MEMBERS NOT ALUMNI OF THE COLLEGE.

The list is arranged according to the year of election to membership. George Edmond Pierce, President of the College, and Professors Barrows, Day, Nooney, Seymour and St. John constituted the original committee of organization to which the charter was granted. Professors Bartlett and Long, whose names come next in order, also assisted in the organization of the chapter. It will be seen that the members mentioned in the list were for the most part elected in the early years of the chapter's history. In the records the term "honorary member" is not applied to them, except to a small number of those last elected. They frequently held office, and a few of them who were connected with the college in positions lower than that of professor,[†] were expected to perform all the duties of regular members. Some were already members of other Alphas at the time of their election. Owing to defects in the records, the list is probably not quite complete, nor can the full names be learned in all cases.

CHARTER.*

The Phi Beta Kappa fraternity was founded at William and Mary College on December 5th, 1776. Since that time the following chapters have been established in other colleges: Yale (1780), Harvard (1780), Dartmouth (1787), Union (1817), Bowdoin (1824), Brown (1830), Trinity (1845), Wesleyan (1845), Western Reserve (1847), Vermont (1848), Amherst (1853), Kenyon (1858), New York University (1858), Marietta (1860), Williams (1864), New York City College (1867), Columbia (1868), Middlebury (1868), Hamilton (1869), Rutgers (1869), Hobart (1871), Colgate (1875), Cornell (1882), Dickinson (1886), Lehigh (1886), Rochester (1886), DePauw (1889), Lafayette (1889), Kansas (1889), Northwestern (1889), Minnesota (1892), Pennsylvania (1892), Tufts (1892), Colby (1895), Iowa (1895), Johns Hopkins (1895), Nebraska (1895), Swarthmore (1895), Syracuse (1895), Boston University (1898), California (1898), Chicago (1898), Cincinnati (1898), Haverford (1898), Princeton (1898), St. Lawrence (1898), Vassar (1898), Wabash (1898), Wisconsin (1898), Allegheny (1901), Missouri (1901), Vanderbilt (1901), Colorado College (1904), University of Colorado (1904), Leland Stanford (1904), Mt. Holyoke (1904), University of North Carolina (1904), Ohio State University (1904), Smith (1904), University of Texas (1904), Wellesley (1904), Woman's College of Baltimore (1904).

In each state the first chapter to be established is called the Alpha chapter of the state; the others are called Beta, Gamma, Delta, etc., according to the order of their formation. The chapter of Western Reserve College, now Adelbert College of Western Reserve University, was thus the seventh Alpha organized after the formation of the parent chapter. Its organization was authorized by the following charter, granted in 1847 by the Alpha of Connecticut:

* The numbers in the following pages refer to the Memoranda, pp. 32-33.

“Whereas the society of $\Phi B K$ by selecting the best and most promising scholars of good moral character in the principal colleges, and uniting them in one great fraternity of scientific and literary men, has been found not only profitable to the members of said society, but also conducive to the advancement of sound learning in our country; and whereas the President and Professors of the Western Reserve College at Hudson, in the state of Ohio, being desirous to secure to that college the great advantage of this institution, did, on the second day of December, 1841, prefer a petition to the Alpha of Connecticut, that a branch of this society might be established in the said Western Reserve College, and thereupon the Alpha of Connecticut instituted careful inquiry into the character and prospects of that college, and after mature deliberation did, at their general meeting, on the 18th day of August, 1842, assent to the above mentioned request, provided the approbation and consent of the other Alphas should first be obtained; and whereas the Alpha of Connecticut on learning that such consent and approbation had been obtained from each and all the other Alphas, did, at their general meeting on the day before the Commencement at Yale College, A. D. 1847, invest us the undersigned with authority to give and convey to the said petitioners, being members of this Alpha, the requisite power and authority to create and organize a distinct branch of the $\Phi B K$ in said Western Reserve College, under the name and title of the Alpha of Ohio.

Now therefore, know all men by these presents, that our trusty and beloved brothers George E. Pierce S. T. D., President of the Western Reserve College, and his associates, Professors in the said college, Elijah P. Barrows, A. M., Henry N. Day, A. M., Samuel St. John, A. M., Nathan P. Seymour, A. M., and James Nooney,

A. M., or the major part of them, have and possess full power to create and organize a branch of the society of Φ B K in the Western Reserve College at Hudson, in the state of Ohio, which branch of said society shall be known by the name and style of the Alpha of Ohio, and shall possess and enjoy the power, privileges and prerogatives of a sister Alpha of the Φ B K, provided that it be founded upon and faithfully adhere to, the great and fundamental principles of said society.

And that the said Alpha of Ohio may be the more effectually guarded against any and every departure from the fundamental principles of the Φ B K society, the following brief statement of those principles is here subjoined:

I. No undergraduates shall be admitted into the society until they shall have attained the rank of Junior Sophisters, and so long as they remain undergraduates no more than one-third[†] part of any college class, and only those the most distinguished for genius, character and good scholarship, shall be admitted into the society.

II. All elections of new members shall be by scrutiny of silent ballots and that a single negative vote, if not withdrawn, shall prevent election.

III. The members of each and all branches of the society constitute one literary fraternity, and all are pledged to treat each other with kindness and courtesy and to be faithful to the interests of the society.

IV. The branch of the society first established in any state is to be called the Alpha of that state, and it has power, with the consent of the other Alphas, to establish other branches of the society within the bounds of said state, to be called the Beta, Gamma, Delta, etc., of the same state.⁴

[†] See Laws, Art. 9, p. 30.

V. Each branch of the society is to have the same devices on its medal,³ the same badge of membership, the same tokens of recognition,² etc.

VI. Each branch of the society, while bound by these principles, has full power to frame its own constitution and by-laws for the regulation of its meetings, its exercises, its forms of election and initiation, its choice of officers, its financial concerns and all its internal affairs, according to its own pleasure.

In the name and by the authority of the Connecticut Alpha of the Φ B K, we hereunto affix our names, at New Haven, this nineteenth day of October, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven.

JAMES MURDOCK,

DENISON OLMSTED,

THOMAS A. THACHER.

The above diploma is in strict accordance with the votes passed by the Connecticut Alpha of the Phi Beta Kappa Society.

Attest:

EDWARD STRONG, Cor. Secretary."

The acceptance of the charter is recorded in the following extract from the chapter records:

"Western Reserve College, Hudson, Ohio.

October 28th, 1847.

The above named (see charter) commissioners, viz., Elijah P. Barrows, Jr., Henry N. Day, Samuel St. John, Nathan P. Seymour and James Nooney, having been convened for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Φ B K society in connection with this institution, Prof. Barrows was appointed Chairman and Prof. Day Secretary. On motion it was voted unanimously that the charter above recorded be accepted and that we hereby organize ourselves into its provisions into a branch of the Φ B K society under the distinctive name of the Alpha of Ohio. Voted that Profs. Long and Bartlett, being members of the Alpha of New Hampshire, be invited to unite with us in the further organization of this Alpha. Messrs. St. John, Day, and Long were appointed a committee to prepare a constitution and a code of laws for the government of the Alpha. Adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

ELIJAH P. BARROWS, Chairman,
HENRY N. DAY, Secretary."

CONSTITUTION.*

ARTICLE I.

OFFICERS.

SEC. 1. The officers of this Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Corresponding Secretary, Register, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer and Recording Secretary,⁶ who shall be elected annually, the five first mentioned at the annual meeting at Commencement, *and the remainder at the last regular meeting in the summer term.*⁶

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the President to maintain order at the meetings of the Alpha and to convene the members on special occasions. The Vice-President shall perform the same duties in the absence of the President. Whenever both are absent, a President pro tempore shall be elected and invested with the same authority. The Vice-President shall also be ex-officio Auditor of the Treasurer's accounts.

SEC. 3. The Corresponding Secretary ⁶ shall conduct the ordinary correspondence of the Alpha and preserve the same on file.

SEC. 4. The Register ⁶ shall keep the book of registry and enroll in it the names of the members with their respective places of abode.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to take charge of the Alpha's funds, and to make the necessary disbursements therefrom, to audit the accounts of the Assistant Treasurer,⁶ to provide for the publication of catalogues and of exercises ordered to be printed, to procure accommodations for the general meetings of the Alpha, to present his accounts to the Vice-President to be audited and to make a report of the same to the annual meeting. The Treasurer shall be chosen from among the graduate members permanently resident in Hudson.

* Adopted Nov. 1st, 1847. Parts in italics have now become inoperative. The figures in the text refer to the Memoranda, pp. 32-33.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the Assistant Treasurer⁶ to collect the initiation fees, taxes and other dues of the members attending the regular meetings and pay over to the Treasurer so much of the same as may be necessary for general purposes, to provide badges⁸ for the members at the stated meetings, and at the expiration of his term of office to make a report of the same to the Alpha.

SEC. 7. The Recording Secretary⁶ shall keep the books of records and faithfully insert therein all the important votes and transactions of the Alpha, open the meetings by announcing the exercises and business, take the ballots and votes of the members at elections and appointments, give the requisite notice to members duly elected, and with the Assistant Treasurer⁶ take charge of their introduction to the Alpha.

ARTICLE II.

ELECTION AND INITIATION OF MEMBERS.

SEC. 1. At the first regular meeting of the second term⁶ an election shall be made of new members of the Junior class not exceeding in number one-fourth of said class, and at the first regular meeting in the first term⁶ a further election from the same class, then Senior, at which election such a number may be chosen as, with those previously elected, shall make the whole number in the class not greater than one-third* as computed at the time of the first election. But if at either election, in the division of the class, there shall be a fraction of two, an additional member may be elected.*

* See Laws, Art. 9, p. 30.

SEC. 2. All elections of new members shall be by ballot after nomination—each ballot to be marked “Yes” or “No.” If all the ballots shall be marked “Yes,” the candidate shall be declared to be duly elected; otherwise not. But if there is only one against a candidate, the member so voting may be required to assign his reasons, and if he declines doing so, or if no one acknowledges the vote, it shall be considered as withdrawn and the candidate shall be declared to be elected.

SEC. 3. None but undergraduates shall be elected as members except at an annual or other general meeting; *and no undergraduate shall be elected at any other meeting than those specified in the first section of this article.*⁶

SEC. 4. *At a general meeting to be called for the purpose by the President, unless otherwise specially ordered by the Alpha,*⁶ the newly elected members shall be initiated, according to the form annexed to this constitution. Each regular member shall pay to the Assistant Treasurer ⁶ one dollar as a fee of initiation.

ARTICLE III.

MEETINGS.⁵

SEC. 1. Meetings of the Alpha shall be held *once in three weeks, commencing on the second Tuesday of each term.*⁵

SEC. 2. The annual meeting of the Alpha shall be held on the day preceding ⁵ Commencement for the election of officers and for the transaction of any other business properly coming before it.

ARTICLE IV.

EXERCISES.

SEC. 1. At the regular meetings of the Alpha there shall be such literary exercises as shall be specified and assigned in the by-laws.

SEC. 2. An oration shall be delivered before the Alpha annually, on the day before Commencement, and it shall be the duty of the Corresponding Secretary to make the necessary arrangements for the purpose.

SEC. 3. *Two orators shall be chosen by ballot at the annual meeting at Commencement. Should the first orator decline the appointment, the second shall exhibit. Should the first exhibit pursuant to his appointment, the second shall stand as the first appointed for the ensuing year. Provision for any anticipated failure may be made at any general meeting.

SEC. 4. The nominating committee shall consist of the President, Vice-President, Corresponding Secretary, ex officiis, and two other persons to be chosen for the purpose at the annual meeting.⁶

ARTICLE V.

RULES OF ORDER.

SEC. 1. At any meeting seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for business.

SEC. 2. A catalogue of the members of the Alpha shall be published as often as the Alpha may direct, a copy of which shall be sent to every member, and the initiation fees shall be especially appropriated to defray the expense of publication.

SEC. 3. An official letter shall annually be written to each existing branch of the society, containing a list of the members admitted the previous year, together with the names of the officers and any other appropriate information.

* See first amendment, p. 28.

ARTICLE VI.

AMENDMENTS AND LAWS.

SEC. 1. This constitution may be amended at any annual or general meeting, the amendment proposed having been submitted to the Alpha at a previous meeting.

SEC. 2. The Alpha may, at any regular meeting, adopt all necessary by-laws, consistent with the provisions of this Constitution.

FORM OF INITIATION.

The member or members shall be introduced by the Recording Secretary⁶ to the Alpha. The Constitution shall then be read by the Corresponding Secretary⁶ and be subscribed by the candidates, after which the President shall explain the medal with such accompanying remarks as he may deem appropriate.

AMENDMENT.

1st Amendment—Art. IV, Sec. 3. Adopted July 27th, 1848.—The last sentence of this section shall stand thus: Provision for any anticipated failure may be made at any general meeting, or should no such meeting occur it may be done by the Committee of Nomination.

LAWS.*

1. *The proceedings of the Alpha shall be made known to none except such members of the  as shall be entitled to the privileges of attendance at any of its meetings. And as to all others each member shall be in honor bound to the observance of entire secrecy, in respect of the proceedings of the  except so far as the Alpha shall expressly direct or permit of their publication.*²

2.† The exercises at the regular meetings of the Alpha shall be the following and in the following order: 1st, Roll Call; 2nd, Approval of Minutes; 3rd, An Essay; 4th, An Essay; 5th, A Critical Review; 6th, A Translation from Greek or Latin into English prose or verse, or vice versa; 7th Anonymous Contributions to be read by the Recording Secretary at his discretion; 8th, Elections; 9th, Miscellaneous Business; 10th, Assignment of parts for next meeting to the regular members in alphabetical order; 11th, Adjournment.

3. The Recording Secretary⁶ and Assistant Treasurer⁶ shall be a standing committee to provide suitable accommodations for the regular meetings of the Alpha.

4. A tax shall be levied from time to time on all the regular members of the Alpha to defray expenses as the Assistant Treasurer⁶ shall report the same to be necessary.

* Articles 1 to 7 were adopted November 8th, 1847; articles 8 to 13, June 16th, 1904. The figures in the text refer to the Memoranda, pp. 32-33.

 The records leave blank spaces at these points.

† Superseded by Art. 12, p. 31.

5. All resident members connected with any department of Western Reserve College, as students or teachers, except the President and Professors, shall be regarded as regular members.

6. Each unexcused absentee from a regular meeting of the Alpha shall pay to the Assistant Treasurer the sum of twenty-five cents, such absentee being a regular member.

7. Each member failing to perform the part assigned to him, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2 of these Laws, unless excused by the Alpha, shall pay to the Assistant Treasurer the sum of fifty cents.

8. The chapter shall appoint a delegation to represent it at each meeting of the National Council of the United Chapters,⁴ shall contribute its equal part to the financial support of the United Chapters, and shall conform to the constitution of the United Chapters, and all the lawful requirements of the National Council.

9. From each class of Adelbert College the chapter may admit to its membership those men who have taken as students the highest rank in the class for the whole period of the college course and who are at the same time men of thoroughly good character. The number admitted from each class shall not be greater than one-fourth the class membership at the time of graduation. Of this number three shall be admitted at the end of their Junior year. These shall be the three students of good character who have led their class in scholarship during the first three years of the college course. But an additional member may be elected from the Junior class if his standing be practically equal to that of one of the three mentioned.

10. The method of nomination for the new members mentioned in Art. 9 shall be as follows: The secretary of the chapter shall obtain each year from the executive committee of the college faculty the names of the required number of Juniors and Seniors who in the judgment of the executive committee satisfy the conditions of eligibility as laid down in the constitution and laws. The men whose names are thus obtained shall be nominated for membership by the secretary at the annual meeting of the chapter.

11. Graduates of the college whose work as graduate students entitles them to the honor of membership in the fraternity, or who have won distinction in letters, science, or education may be elected members of the chapter, and may be put in nomination by any member at the annual meeting. Before the vote of election is taken, however, such nominations shall be considered and reported upon by a committee.

12. (Superseding and annulling Art. 2.) The regular order of business at the annual meeting shall be as follows:

- I. Reading of minutes.
- II. Nominations to membership of men not Juniors or Seniors of the college.
- III. Appointment of nominating committee.⁶
- IV. Nomination and election of members from the Junior and Senior classes of the college.
- V. Initiation of new members.
- VI. Miscellaneous business.
- VII. Report of nominating committee.
- VIII. Adjournment.

13. No person elected in his Senior or Junior year shall be entitled to wear the Phi Beta Kappa key or possess the privileges of membership until he has been initiated into the society.

MEMORANDA.

1. Phi Beta Kappa is named after the initial letters of its motto, Φιλοσοφία Βίου Κυβερνήτης.

2. The fraternity was first organized as a secret body, but during the anti-Masonic agitation of the last century secrecy and secret symbols were abandoned.

3. The medal of the fraternity is a gold key bearing on one side the letters Φ B K and a hand pointing to a group of stars, now seven in most chapters. What the number of stars originally signified has become a matter of dispute and uncertainty. In 1897 the Alpha of Ohio adopted the following resolution: "That the number of stars on the key, the badge of the society, be seven for this chapter, to express the fact that this Alpha is the seventh in order of establishment, counting from the parent society." On the opposite side of the key appear the letters S. P., the significance of which is now disputed. "Societas Philosophiae" is the interpretation given by the William and Mary chapter.

4. By virtue of the authority delegated to it in its charter, the chapter established a Beta at Kenyon in 1858 and a Gamma at Marietta in 1860. In 1883 the fraternity was reorganized and a closer association of existing chapters was formed, called the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, which is governed by a National Council of delegates from the chapters and by a Senate of twenty members chosen by the Council. A meeting of the Council is held every three years, the last one having taken place in 1904. Power to grant new charters is now vested in the Council, which has established in Ohio a Delta chapter at the University of Cincinnati (1898) and an Epsilon chapter at the Ohio State University (1904). The Alpha of Ohio became a member of the United Chapters in 1894.

5. For some time the annual meeting of the chapter has been held on the afternoon of Commencement day and has been the only meeting of the year.

6. Elections of all officers, and elections and initiations of new members now take place at the annual meeting. As officers the chapter now elects a President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer. To the last named are assigned the duties of Corresponding Secretary, Register, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer and Recording Secretary.* Nominations for these offices are made by a nominating committee appointed from among the members present at the annual meeting by the presiding officer of that meeting. Newly elected members are introduced to the chapter at its annual meeting by some member delegated for that duty by the presiding officer.

8. In 1848 the chapter voted that its members should wear badges of green ribbon on the occasion of the Phi Beta Kappa oration, which was then an annual Commencement event. Such a badge is therefore a distinctive token of membership in the Alpha of Ohio.

* See Constitution, Art. I, Sec. I, p. 24.

For the method of nomination of members see Laws, Articles 9, 10 and 11, pp. 30-31.

INDEX.

Names printed in italics are those of members who were not alumni of the college. The list of such members begins on page 16. In the case of alumni references are to the year of graduation; in other cases to the year of election.
